BACKGROUND

History

The Chicago Southland Convention & Visitors Bureau was founded 35 years ago as a subsidiary of the South Suburban Regional Economic Development Coordinating Corporation. In 1993, the CVB separated from that parent organization, service marked the name “Chicago Southland,” and became an independent 501(c)(6) organization. As a regional marketing cooperative, the Chicago Southland CVB represents 62 south and southwest municipalities, approximately 25 miles south of downtown Chicago.

Mission

The Chicago Southland Convention & Visitors Bureau’s mission is as follows:

As the official destination management organization, the mission of the Chicago Southland Convention & Visitors Bureau is to market the communities within the Chicago Southland region as a meetings and leisure destination; soliciting conventions, exhibitions, sporting events and other related group business; engaging in visitor promotions including those which generate overnight stays for the region; promoting lodging, food and beverage, attractions, festivals and events; and other visitor related businesses; to promote and aid in tourism-related product development, thereby enhancing and developing the image, economic fabric and vitality of the Southland.

Who We Are

The Chicago Southland Convention & Visitors Bureau represents over 4,000 sleeping rooms, many of which are limited service or motels. There are four full-service conference hotel facilities and several smaller properties offering meeting room capabilities. The diversity of these properties dictates the need for a coordinated sales and marketing program that attracts business and clients who will utilize their facilities. What one property may wish is not necessarily what another wants; market segments vary as well as flexibility in rates and date availability. This poses a unique challenge for the CVB.

Geographic distribution of hotel/motel properties is broad, with groupings in:

- Bridgeview/Burbank
- Alsip/Crestwood/Oak Forest/Orland Hills/Orland Park
- Chicago Heights/East Hazel Crest/Homewood/Markham
- Calumet City/Lansing/South Holland
- Matteson/Mokena/Monee

Strengths and Challenges

Strengths:

- Visitor Information Center (VIC)
- Proximity to Midway, O'Hare International and Lansing Airports
- Availability of sports venues
- Increasing upward mobility of Chicago Southland population and positive news coverage of the region
- Abundance of hospitality services in the region
- 5-hour drive to 8 midwestern states

Challenges:

- Regional Image / National Press on Chicago Crime
- Interstate signage
- Lack of airport transportation to hotels
- Region lacks a major, year-round attraction
- Tax structure in southern Cook County discourages business investment
- Inconsistent hospitality service and high turnover rates among hospitality personnel
- Lack of a convention center to market puts the entire Chicago Southland region at a severe competitive disadvantage.
